Company | Our Team

Marta García González

CEO

With more than 10 years of experience in the translation industry, a Master in Translation and a Spanish FP degree in online marketing, she is responsible for the business strategy as well as the management of employees and the large team of collaborators.

Lara Frisinghelli

Senior Project Manager

A native speaker of Italian and with extensive academic studies in translation, Lara is responsible for the management of BigBabbling's translation projects. She acts as a liaison between the client and the professional assigned to the project.

Jennifer Moreno

Content & Customer Services Manager

Her passion being writing and literature in general, she is the one who keeps our blog active and who inspires our followers on social media. She brings new perspectives to the world of translation and attends to the specific needs of users.

Zahra-Claire Bahrani-Peacock

Quality Control

With a half-German, half-Arab mother, an English father and academic studies in translation, she is responsible for quality control, checking the format and content of all projects in detail before they are delivered to the client.

Our Collaborators

Professional translators and interpreters

All our translators have certified studies in the world of translation and extensive experience in specialised areas. They provide us with linguistic services, whilst under the constant supervision of the project manager.
